

CIWM Waste Awareness Certificate / Construction

QSP is an Accredited Centre with Chartered Institute of Waste Management (CIWM), with approved trainers for the Waste Awareness Certificates.

QSP is offering this 1 day training course that will enable employees to be more “aware of waste” If your organisation produces waste, then we can help reduce costs, comply with legislation and make a positive impact to your environment.

Who is it For?

The CIWM Waste Awareness Certificate is aimed at any person who deals with waste in your organisation, who needs to have relevant training, in order for them to carry out this legal requirement, safely, effectively, and within the law.

Shop floor workers, managers – particularly facilities managers or those responsible for waste, office staff, cleaners, contractors. However, anybody who disposes of or deals with waste will benefit from this course and it is applicable to almost every type of organisation.

The CIWM Waste Awareness Certificate – Construction award is aimed at organisations involved with demolition, excavation, design, construction, building management, and project management team leading the design and build of new developments.

How does it Work?

The course can be delivered on site at the premises of the company or at our training centre in the West Midlands. This 1 day training course will enable you or your company to become more “aware of waste”. Gaining an insight into the potential savings which could be made on projects and how the impact on the environmental could be reduced.

What will I Gain?

Upon successful completion, course attendees are awarded a Certificate from the Chartered Institution of Wastes Management (CIWM) and take away with them a course handbook to use as a valuable tool in their working environment. Courses are held at our premises or can be delivered on-site to minimise disruption.
